Over the past year, we completed Phase One of our Land Use Planning process—gathering community stories, mapping the land, and collecting survey data.

We heard that:

- Housing and community spaces are urgently needed
- Green space and traditional lands should be protected
- Businesses and development should reflect Mi'kmaw values
- Water, beach, and land hold deep cultural importance

Now we want to know what you think about the results.

- What kinds of businesses or opportunities would you like to see in PLFN?
- What do you think we should focus on first—housing, culture, or green space?
- Was anything important missed from the data or maps?
- Is there any other suggestions or comments you would like to add?

Review the presentations at www.plfn.ca and submit your feedback to barry.f@plfn.ca for your chance to win a $100 gift card.

Input open until August 1st

Your input helps guide the next phase—Plan Development—starting soon.
